SECTION 2 – DETERMINING SIGNIFICANCE

2A. Physical site characteristics

For each of the site types listed in Section 1B (built, archaeological, palaeontological, landscape), provide information on the following three characteristics: age; composition; and integrity.

2B. Historical, scientific and/or cultural relevance

For each of the site types listed in Section 1B (built, archaeological, palaeontological, landscape), provide information on the following four aspects: use or activity; event(s); individual, institution or group associated with the site; and cultural, scientific or aesthetic attributes.

SECTION 3 – HERITAGE SIGNIFICANCE

Information presented in Sections 2A and 2B is descriptive. In this section, comparative and contextual information will help in evaluating the site within the broader background of Yukon history. See the guide for more information, or contact the Cultural Services branch.

For each of the site types listed in Section 1B (built, archaeological, palaeontological, landscape), provide information on five aspects of significance: site type; time period; technology; cultural values; and scientific values.

SECTION 4 – OTHER INFORMATION

Describe other factors that should be considered in a potential site designation.

SECTION 5 – HERITAGE CHARACTER STATEMENT

Refer to the guide for information on filling out this section.

SECTION 6 – SOURCES

List the books, documents, maps, photographs and interviews that you used to prepare your nomination submission.

SECTION 7 – LIST OF MATERIALS TO INCLUDE

Your submission should include a certificate of title, present-day and historic photographs of the site, as well as maps, plans, architectural drawings (if available), and other materials. Refer to page 21 of the guide for more information on materials to be included.
